

THIRD TO NOTHING

MISSOURIANS CAN'T PLAY FOOT-BALL SOME.

KICKING FOR GOALS

HESTER'S UNDERSTANDING ALWAYS LANDS THE PIGSKIN.

ONE ON EITHER SIDE INJURED

TWO GREAT GAMES ARE PLAYED IN CHICAGO.

Coliseum Game Gives Indoor Football a Grand Send-Off - Pennsylvania Defeats Cornell

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 26.—The Missouri Tigers were literally overwhelmed by the Jayhawkers in the football contest at Exposition park this afternoon, the score at the finish being 30 to 0 in favor of Kansas. The field was sodden and slippery and at times the players were ankle-deep in mud. Probably 5,000 people witnessed the contest. Excursion trains from near-by points in Kansas and Missouri brought in hundreds who were spectators at the game. Twenty-five men from the University of Minnesota, including the football team from that institution, which will play the Kansas University eleven here on Saturday, were conspicuous in the grand stand. At 2:30 o'clock Baine, the Sioux Indian who is one of the stars of the Kansas team, kicked off to the right line and it was soon apparent that on the slippery field the lighter Missourians would be no match for the brawn and muscle of Kansas. After seven minutes of play Hester scored a touchdown and kicked a goal. Hester scored a second touchdown after a plunge through left tackle and a brilliant run over 45 yards and kicked a goal. The first half ended with the score, Kansas 27, Missouri 0.

In the second half the Missourians put up a stubborn defense but they could not withstand the Kansas rush and after a desperate struggle Baine ran around Missouri's right end, made a sixty yard run for a touchdown and Hester kicked his third goal. After this, in rapid succession, two touchdowns, and goals were kicked, making the final score 30 to 0 in favor of Kansas.

THE LINE-UP.

KANSAS POSITION. MISSOURI POSITION.

Whitney, right end.....Blanton (Crooks)
Foster, right tackle.....Conley
Morse, right guard.....Whitney
Walker, center.....Hill
Fitzpatrick, left guard.....W. Hill
Hamill, left tackle.....Brannon
Sanderford, left end.....Simmet
Kennedy, quarter back.....Evans
Baine, right half back.....Swearingen (Jones)
Voight, left half back.....Sh. Chan
Hester, right half back.....Tucker
Referee—Mudd, of St. Louis.

Umpire—Fren Corneli of Lincoln, Neb.
Tucker, full back for Missouri, were taken from the field in a police ambulance. Whitney was hurt in the stomach, possible rupture, and Tucker was suffering from injury to the head. The others of Missouri's injured were not seriously hurt.

WHITEWASHED EACH OTHER

Neither Iowa Nor Nebraska is Able to Score Once.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 26.—The Iowa and Nebraska university eleven played a tie this afternoon in a blizzard. The field was muddy at the start and snow was falling. Before the first half ended the field was a glare of ice.

Iowa had been looked on as a certain winner but the defense of Nebraska proved too strong for the Burly Hawkeyes.

Nebraska was weak on offensive play. During the first half the ball was in Nebraska's territory all the time and twice was within a yard of the goal line. Nebraska had a stone wall here and the half ended with the ball within a foot of the line. In Iowa's hands. The second half was more open, both teams punting frequently. Iowa at last forced a safety in the second half. The defense of Nebraska was the feature. The game closed Iowa 0; Nebraska 0.

Thorpe's punting against the strong wind was the individual feature of the game, although the tackling of Wiggins and Turner and the runs of Myers and Holbrook were the subjects of much favorable comment. Jones, left end for Nebraska, was hurt about the middle of the first half and Benedict took his place. The linesman lost track of the time and the first half was played for two minutes, instead of thirty-five. For twenty minutes of this time the ball was within fifty yards of Nebraska's goal, changing hands no less than five times on downs. During the extra five minutes, Nebraska held Iowa back with two yards of her goal, a mistake which the Hawkeyes five downs. This mistake was sharply discussed, but the squabble was soon adjusted.

INDOORS FOOTBALL A SUCCESS

Score Stands: Chicago University, 7; Michigan University, 6.

Chicago, Nov. 26.—In the big building in which five months ago W. J. Bryan was nominated for the presidency, 15,000 cheering football enthusiasts saw the eleven of the University of Chicago defeat the strong eleven from the University of Michigan, in one of the most desperately contested games ever played in Chicago. The result was a surprise to everybody, for, although the Chicago eleven professed the utmost confidence of winning, this feeling was not shared by their supporters, who at best, looked for them to hold their opponents down to a small score. To Herseberger, Chicago's full-back, belongs the honor of winning the game. His punting was one of the features, and his goal from the field, kicked from the forty-yard line, went cleanly between the goal posts. He easily outdistanced Hogg, the Ann Arbor full-back, and time and again his long kicks saved his team. Chicago could do but little with Michigan's line, most of her gains being on end plays, in which she displayed splendid interference by kicking of Herseberger, Hamill and Firth. The Chicago ends, both distinguished themselves by some very pretty tackling. On the Michigan side, Firth, the full-back, was the whole thing, the plucky little fellow seldom failing to make the required distance. He was, however, forced to retire in the second half, his place being

TURKEY IN EUROPE

AMERICANS ARROD OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY.

American society in London Numbers Among its Guests Many Prominent Britons, Who Join in Congratulations Upon the Chum-Like Relations of John and Jonathan, All Agreeing That Bayard is No End Good Fellow—Bayard's Feet Under the Queen's Table—The Day in Other Capitals.

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—The second Thanksgiving dinner of the American society took place this evening in the Grand Hall of the Hotel Cecil. Mr. J. Wellcome, chairman of the society, presided, in the absence of the United States ambassador, who, with Mrs. Bayard, was "commanded" to dine with the queen at Windsor castle.

The dinner was on a more elaborate scale than any of the previous gatherings of the society and about 300 ladies and gentlemen were present.

The hall was splendidly decorated. A special feature of the ornamentation, in addition to the stars and stripes, was the display of the portraits of John and Jonathan, and a large American eagle, and near the chairman, on a velvet pedestal, was an enormous pumpkin, sent as a gift to Mr. Bayard, whose absence was much regretted.

In the middle of the dinner there was a surprise for the guests, when each one received a leather-bound souvenir book, containing the portraits of John and Jonathan, and all the American presidents, including President-elect McKinley.

Mr. Bayard's letter of apology for not being able to attend and wishing "God speed to the turkey" was followed by a telegram from the United States ambassador, from Windsor castle, in which he said:

"Your charming souvenir of the day we celebrate has just been received, and the copy for Her Majesty will be presented before your dinner is over. All who love the United States and Great Britain will join in mutual congratulations over the peaceful relations of the English-speaking people of the world."

Mr. Bayard's sentiment was greeted with loud cheers, and Mr. Wellcome, the chairman of the society, in alluding to Mr. Bayard's recent visit to London, said that it was a good omen that the United States ambassador was the guest of the queen at a Thanksgiving dinner. The toast to the queen was honored with unusual enthusiasm, and the Rev. Dr. Sir Frank Lockwood, in proposing "The President of the United States," referred to his recent visit to the United States. He bore a message, he said, from Baron Russell of Kilgoburn, the lord ambassador, that he would fain be with them, but the death of a relative prevented him.

The toast to the president was drunk with enthusiasm, to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner."

All of the speakers of the evening evinced a keen interest in the United States and its people, and with great cordiality and respect.

Among those present were Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attaché; Mr. Carter, Mr. Bayard's secretary; General G. C. Davis, United States consul general; Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, Sir Richard Webster, Sir Frank Lockwood, Mr. Francis W. Jacobs and Mr. Mountney Jephson.

Sir Henry Irving and Lord Rosebery were invited but sent regrets.

Lord Rosebery, writing from Dalmeny, said:

"I can truly say that it would have given me the greatest pleasure to be present and to show my deep respect for your country and its ambassador, but I am detained here by a public gathering over which I am to preside."

GRATITUDE IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 26.—At the Thanksgiving banquet tonight of the American colony, Ambassador Uhl and William S. Correll, consul general, presided.

Dr. Dredsen, were the principal speakers. Four hundred people were present, including Charles B. Kay, the United States consul general here; George Keenan, consul general at Bremen; J. C. Monaghan, consul at Chemnitz; William J. Black, consul at Nuremberg; Thomas E. Moore, consul at Weimar; Frederick Okke, consul at Breslau; William C. Dreher, consul at Garmisch; Peter V. Deuster, consul at Crefeld; Julius Muth, consul at Magdeburg; the Rev. Dr. Dickle, pastor of the American church in this city; and the Rev. Dr. Clark, president of the United States Christian Endeavor society, who has just arrived here from Turkey.

The banquet was preceded by a reception at the Kaiserhof, at which Mrs. Uhl presided.

The German-American society also gave a banquet in honor of Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Uhl made a capital speech on national issues and proposed cheers for the emperor, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley. Mr. Correll spoke to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate."

"OLD GLORY" IN ROME

Rome, Italy, Nov. 26.—The stars and stripes floated today over the United States embassy consulate, the American college and the residence of the American here. Religious services were celebrated in the National church by the Rev. Dr. Nevin, and were attended by nearly all the leaders of the American colony.

The United States ambassador, Mr. Wayne McVagh, was unable on account of ill health to be present.

OBSERVED IN PARIS

Paris, France, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving celebrations here were confined to a meeting of the University Dinner club at which United States Ambassador Francis presided. Professor Sloane of Princeton, M. Bartholme, the sculptor, Mr. Ernest Lavasse, the French academician, and others spoke.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON

How President and Cabinet and Their Families Spent the Day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland attended Thanksgiving services today at the First Presbyterian church. The day was bright and balmy and Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland drove in the barouche with open windows. Later the presidential family ate their Thanksgiving dinner at the White House. The day was spent quietly, in accordance with the views suggested in the president's proclamation.

The members of the families of the

AMERICANS ARROD OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY.

American society in London Numbers Among its Guests Many Prominent Britons, Who Join in Congratulations Upon the Chum-Like Relations of John and Jonathan, All Agreeing That Bayard is No End Good Fellow—Bayard's Feet Under the Queen's Table—The Day in Other Capitals.

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—The second Thanksgiving dinner of the American society took place this evening in the Grand Hall of the Hotel Cecil. Mr. J. Wellcome, chairman of the society, presided, in the absence of the United States ambassador, who, with Mrs. Bayard, was "commanded" to dine with the queen at Windsor castle.

The dinner was on a more elaborate scale than any of the previous gatherings of the society and about 300 ladies and gentlemen were present.

The hall was splendidly decorated. A special feature of the ornamentation, in addition to the stars and stripes, was the display of the portraits of John and Jonathan, and a large American eagle, and near the chairman, on a velvet pedestal, was an enormous pumpkin, sent as a gift to Mr. Bayard, whose absence was much regretted.

In the middle of the dinner there was a surprise for the guests, when each one received a leather-bound souvenir book, containing the portraits of John and Jonathan, and all the American presidents, including President-elect McKinley.

Mr. Bayard's letter of apology for not being able to attend and wishing "God speed to the turkey" was followed by a telegram from the United States ambassador, from Windsor castle, in which he said:

"Your charming souvenir of the day we celebrate has just been received, and the copy for Her Majesty will be presented before your dinner is over. All who love the United States and Great Britain will join in mutual congratulations over the peaceful relations of the English-speaking people of the world."

Mr. Bayard's sentiment was greeted with loud cheers, and Mr. Wellcome, the chairman of the society, in alluding to Mr. Bayard's recent visit to London, said that it was a good omen that the United States ambassador was the guest of the queen at a Thanksgiving dinner. The toast to the queen was honored with unusual enthusiasm, and the Rev. Dr. Sir Frank Lockwood, in proposing "The President of the United States," referred to his recent visit to the United States. He bore a message, he said, from Baron Russell of Kilgoburn, the lord ambassador, that he would fain be with them, but the death of a relative prevented him.

The toast to the president was drunk with enthusiasm, to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner."

All of the speakers of the evening evinced a keen interest in the United States and its people, and with great cordiality and respect.

Among those present were Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attaché; Mr. Carter, Mr. Bayard's secretary; General G. C. Davis, United States consul general; Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, Sir Richard Webster, Sir Frank Lockwood, Mr. Francis W. Jacobs and Mr. Mountney Jephson.

Sir Henry Irving and Lord Rosebery were invited but sent regrets.

Lord Rosebery, writing from Dalmeny, said:

"I can truly say that it would have given me the greatest pleasure to be present and to show my deep respect for your country and its ambassador, but I am detained here by a public gathering over which I am to preside."

GRATITUDE IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 26.—At the Thanksgiving banquet tonight of the American colony, Ambassador Uhl and William S. Correll, consul general, presided.

Dr. Dredsen, were the principal speakers. Four hundred people were present, including Charles B. Kay, the United States consul general here; George Keenan, consul general at Bremen; J. C. Monaghan, consul at Chemnitz; William J. Black, consul at Nuremberg; Thomas E. Moore, consul at Weimar; Frederick Okke, consul at Breslau; William C. Dreher, consul at Garmisch; Peter V. Deuster, consul at Crefeld; Julius Muth, consul at Magdeburg; the Rev. Dr. Dickle, pastor of the American church in this city; and the Rev. Dr. Clark, president of the United States Christian Endeavor society, who has just arrived here from Turkey.

The banquet was preceded by a reception at the Kaiserhof, at which Mrs. Uhl presided.

The German-American society also gave a banquet in honor of Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Uhl made a capital speech on national issues and proposed cheers for the emperor, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley. Mr. Correll spoke to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate."

"OLD GLORY" IN ROME

Rome, Italy, Nov. 26.—The stars and stripes floated today over the United States embassy consulate, the American college and the residence of the American here. Religious services were celebrated in the National church by the Rev. Dr. Nevin, and were attended by nearly all the leaders of the American colony.

The United States ambassador, Mr. Wayne McVagh, was unable on account of ill health to be present.

OBSERVED IN PARIS

Paris, France, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving celebrations here were confined to a meeting of the University Dinner club at which United States Ambassador Francis presided. Professor Sloane of Princeton, M. Bartholme, the sculptor, Mr. Ernest Lavasse, the French academician, and others spoke.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON

How President and Cabinet and Their Families Spent the Day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland attended Thanksgiving services today at the First Presbyterian church. The day was bright and balmy and Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland drove in the barouche with open windows. Later the presidential family ate their Thanksgiving dinner at the White House. The day was spent quietly, in accordance with the views suggested in the president's proclamation.

The members of the families of the

AMERICANS ARROD OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY.

American society in London Numbers Among its Guests Many Prominent Britons, Who Join in Congratulations Upon the Chum-Like Relations of John and Jonathan, All Agreeing That Bayard is No End Good Fellow—Bayard's Feet Under the Queen's Table—The Day in Other Capitals.

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—The second Thanksgiving dinner of the American society took place this evening in the Grand Hall of the Hotel Cecil. Mr. J. Wellcome, chairman of the society, presided, in the absence of the United States ambassador, who, with Mrs. Bayard, was "commanded" to dine with the queen at Windsor castle.

The dinner was on a more elaborate scale than any of the previous gatherings of the society and about 300 ladies and gentlemen were present.

The hall was splendidly decorated. A special feature of the ornamentation, in addition to the stars and stripes, was the display of the portraits of John and Jonathan, and a large American eagle, and near the chairman, on a velvet pedestal, was an enormous pumpkin, sent as a gift to Mr. Bayard, whose absence was much regretted.

In the middle of the dinner there was a surprise for the guests, when each one received a leather-bound souvenir book, containing the portraits of John and Jonathan, and all the American presidents, including President-elect McKinley.

Mr. Bayard's letter of apology for not being able to attend and wishing "God speed to the turkey" was followed by a telegram from the United States ambassador, from Windsor castle, in which he said:

"Your charming souvenir of the day we celebrate has just been received, and the copy for Her Majesty will be presented before your dinner is over. All who love the United States and Great Britain will join in mutual congratulations over the peaceful relations of the English-speaking people of the world."

Mr. Bayard's sentiment was greeted with loud cheers, and Mr. Wellcome, the chairman of the society, in alluding to Mr. Bayard's recent visit to London, said that it was a good omen that the United States ambassador was the guest of the queen at a Thanksgiving dinner. The toast to the queen was honored with unusual enthusiasm, and the Rev. Dr. Sir Frank Lockwood, in proposing "The President of the United States," referred to his recent visit to the United States. He bore a message, he said, from Baron Russell of Kilgoburn, the lord ambassador, that he would fain be with them, but the death of a relative prevented him.

The toast to the president was drunk with enthusiasm, to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner."

All of the speakers of the evening evinced a keen interest in the United States and its people, and with great cordiality and respect.

Among those present were Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attaché; Mr. Carter, Mr. Bayard's secretary; General G. C. Davis, United States consul general; Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, Sir Richard Webster, Sir Frank Lockwood, Mr. Francis W. Jacobs and Mr. Mountney Jephson.

Sir Henry Irving and Lord Rosebery were invited but sent regrets.

Lord Rosebery, writing from Dalmeny, said:

"I can truly say that it would have given me the greatest pleasure to be present and to show my deep respect for your country and its ambassador, but I am detained here by a public gathering over which I am to preside."

GRATITUDE IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 26.—At the Thanksgiving banquet tonight of the American colony, Ambassador Uhl and William S. Correll, consul general, presided.

Dr. Dredsen, were the principal speakers. Four hundred people were present, including Charles B. Kay, the United States consul general here; George Keenan, consul general at Bremen; J. C. Monaghan, consul at Chemnitz; William J. Black, consul at Nuremberg; Thomas E. Moore, consul at Weimar; Frederick Okke, consul at Breslau; William C. Dreher, consul at Garmisch; Peter V. Deuster, consul at Crefeld; Julius Muth, consul at Magdeburg; the Rev. Dr. Dickle, pastor of the American church in this city; and the Rev. Dr. Clark, president of the United States Christian Endeavor society, who has just arrived here from Turkey.

The banquet was preceded by a reception at the Kaiserhof, at which Mrs. Uhl presided.

The German-American society also gave a banquet in honor of Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Uhl made a capital speech on national issues and proposed cheers for the emperor, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley. Mr. Correll spoke to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate."

"OLD GLORY" IN ROME

Rome, Italy, Nov. 26.—The stars and stripes floated today over the United States embassy consulate, the American college and the residence of the American here. Religious services were celebrated in the National church by the Rev. Dr. Nevin, and were attended by nearly all the leaders of the American colony.

The United States ambassador, Mr. Wayne McVagh, was unable on account of ill health to be present.

OBSERVED IN PARIS

Paris, France, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving celebrations here were confined to a meeting of the University Dinner club at which United States Ambassador Francis presided. Professor Sloane of Princeton, M. Bartholme, the sculptor, Mr. Ernest Lavasse, the French academician, and others spoke.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON

How President and Cabinet and Their Families Spent the Day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland attended Thanksgiving services today at the First Presbyterian church. The day was bright and balmy and Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland drove in the barouche with open windows. Later the presidential family ate their Thanksgiving dinner at the White House. The day was spent quietly, in accordance with the views suggested in the president's proclamation.

The members of the families of the

AMERICANS ARROD OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY.

American society in London Numbers Among its Guests Many Prominent Britons, Who Join in Congratulations Upon the Chum-Like Relations of John and Jonathan, All Agreeing That Bayard is No End Good Fellow—Bayard's Feet Under the Queen's Table—The Day in Other Capitals.

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—The second Thanksgiving dinner of the American society took place this evening in the Grand Hall of the Hotel Cecil. Mr. J. Wellcome, chairman of the society, presided, in the absence of the United States ambassador, who, with Mrs. Bayard, was "commanded" to dine with the queen at Windsor castle.

The dinner was on a more elaborate scale than any of the previous gatherings of the society and about 300 ladies and gentlemen were present.

The hall was splendidly decorated. A special feature of the ornamentation, in addition to the stars and stripes, was the display of the portraits of John and Jonathan, and a large American eagle, and near the chairman, on a velvet pedestal, was an enormous pumpkin, sent as a gift to Mr. Bayard, whose absence was much regretted.

In the middle of the dinner there was a surprise for the guests, when each one received a leather-bound souvenir book, containing the portraits of John and Jonathan, and all the American presidents, including President-elect McKinley.

Mr. Bayard's letter of apology for not being able to attend and wishing "God speed to the turkey" was followed by a telegram from the United States ambassador, from Windsor castle, in which he said:

"Your charming souvenir of the day we celebrate has just been received, and the copy for Her Majesty will be presented before your dinner is over. All who love the United States and Great Britain will join in mutual congratulations over the peaceful relations of the English-speaking people of the world."

Mr. Bayard's sentiment was greeted with loud cheers, and Mr. Wellcome, the chairman of the society, in alluding to Mr. Bayard's recent visit to London, said that it was a good omen that the United States ambassador was the guest of the queen at a Thanksgiving dinner. The toast to the queen was honored with unusual enthusiasm, and the Rev. Dr. Sir Frank Lockwood, in proposing "The President of the United States," referred to his recent visit to the United States. He bore a message, he said, from Baron Russell of Kilgoburn, the lord ambassador, that he would fain be with them, but the death of a relative prevented him.

The toast to the president was drunk with enthusiasm, to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner."

All of the speakers of the evening evinced a keen interest in the United States and its people, and with great cordiality and respect.

Among those present were Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attaché; Mr. Carter, Mr. Bayard's secretary; General G. C. Davis, United States consul general; Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, Sir Richard Webster, Sir Frank Lockwood, Mr. Francis W. Jacobs and Mr. Mountney Jephson.

Sir Henry Irving and Lord Rosebery were invited but sent regrets.

Lord Rosebery, writing from Dalmeny, said:

"I can truly say that it would have given me the greatest pleasure to be present and to show my deep respect for your country and its ambassador, but I am detained here by a public gathering over which I am to preside."

GRATITUDE IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 26.—At the Thanksgiving banquet tonight of the American colony, Ambassador Uhl and William S. Correll, consul general, presided.

Dr. Dredsen, were the principal speakers. Four hundred people were present, including Charles B. Kay, the United States consul general here; George Keenan, consul general at Bremen; J. C. Monaghan, consul at Chemnitz; William J. Black, consul at Nuremberg; Thomas E. Moore, consul at Weimar; Frederick Okke, consul at Breslau; William C. Dreher, consul at Garmisch; Peter V. Deuster, consul at Crefeld; Julius Muth, consul at Magdeburg; the Rev. Dr. Dickle, pastor of the American church in this city; and the Rev. Dr. Clark, president of the United States Christian Endeavor society, who has just arrived here from Turkey.

The banquet was preceded by a reception at the Kaiserhof, at which Mrs. Uhl presided.

The German-American society also gave a banquet in honor of Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Uhl made a capital speech on national issues and proposed cheers for the emperor, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley. Mr. Correll spoke to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate."

"OLD GLORY" IN ROME

Rome, Italy, Nov. 26.—The stars and stripes floated today over the United States embassy consulate, the American college and the residence of the American here. Religious services were celebrated in the National church by the Rev. Dr. Nevin, and were attended by nearly all the leaders of the American colony.

The United States ambassador, Mr. Wayne McVagh, was unable on account of ill health to be present.

OBSERVED IN PARIS

Paris, France, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving celebrations here were confined to a meeting of the University Dinner club at which United States Ambassador Francis presided. Professor Sloane of Princeton, M. Bartholme, the sculptor, Mr. Ernest Lavasse, the French academician, and others spoke.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON

How President and Cabinet and Their Families Spent the Day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland attended Thanksgiving services today at the First Presbyterian church. The day was bright and balmy and Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland drove in the barouche with open windows. Later the presidential family ate their Thanksgiving dinner at the White House. The day was spent quietly, in accordance with the views suggested in the president's proclamation.

The members of the families of the

AMERICANS ARROD OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY.

American society in London Numbers Among its Guests Many Prominent Britons, Who Join in Congratulations Upon the Chum-Like Relations of John and Jonathan, All Agreeing That Bayard is No End Good Fellow—Bayard's Feet Under the Queen's Table—The Day in Other Capitals.

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—The second Thanksgiving dinner of the American society took place this evening in the Grand Hall of the Hotel Cecil. Mr. J. Wellcome, chairman of the society, presided, in the absence of the United States ambassador, who, with Mrs. Bayard, was "commanded" to dine with the queen at Windsor castle.

The dinner was on a more elaborate scale than any of the previous gatherings of the society and about 300 ladies and gentlemen were present.

The hall was splendidly decorated. A special feature of the ornamentation, in addition to the stars and stripes, was the display of the portraits of John and Jonathan, and a large American eagle, and near the chairman, on a velvet pedestal, was an enormous pumpkin, sent as a gift to Mr. Bayard, whose absence was much regretted.

In the middle of the dinner there was a surprise for the guests, when each one received a leather-bound souvenir book, containing the portraits of John and Jonathan, and all the American presidents, including President-elect McKinley.

Mr. Bayard's letter of apology for not being able to attend and wishing "God speed to the turkey" was followed by a telegram from the United States ambassador, from Windsor castle, in which he said:

"Your charming souvenir of the day we celebrate has just been received, and the copy for Her Majesty will be presented before your dinner is over. All who love the United States and Great Britain will join in mutual congratulations over the peaceful relations of the English-speaking people of the world."

Mr. Bayard's sentiment was greeted with loud cheers, and Mr. Wellcome, the chairman of the society, in alluding to Mr. Bayard's recent visit to London, said that it was a good omen that the United States ambassador was the guest of the queen at a Thanksgiving dinner. The toast to the queen was honored with unusual enthusiasm, and the Rev. Dr. Sir Frank Lockwood, in proposing "The President of the United States," referred to his recent visit to the United States. He bore a message, he said, from Baron Russell of Kilgoburn, the lord ambassador, that he would fain be with them, but the death of a relative prevented him.

The toast to the president was drunk with enthusiasm, to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner."

All of the speakers of the evening evinced a keen interest in the United States and its people, and with great cordiality and respect.

Among those present were Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attaché; Mr. Carter, Mr. Bayard's secretary; General G. C. Davis, United States consul general; Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, Sir Richard Webster, Sir Frank Lockwood, Mr. Francis W. Jacobs and Mr. Mountney Jephson.

Sir Henry Irving and Lord Rosebery were invited but sent regrets.

Lord Rosebery, writing from Dalmeny, said:

"I can truly say that it would have given me the greatest pleasure to be present and to show my deep respect for your country and its ambassador, but I am detained here by a public gathering over which I am to preside."

GRATITUDE IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 26.—At the Thanksgiving banquet tonight of the American colony, Ambassador Uhl and William S. Correll, consul general, presided.

Dr. Dredsen, were the principal speakers. Four hundred people were present, including Charles B. Kay, the United States consul general here; George Keenan, consul general at Bremen; J. C. Monaghan, consul at Chemnitz; William J. Black, consul at Nuremberg; Thomas E. Moore, consul at Weimar; Frederick Okke, consul at Breslau; William C. Dreher, consul at Garmisch; Peter V. Deuster, consul at Crefeld; Julius Muth, consul at Magdeburg; the Rev. Dr. Dickle, pastor of the American church in this city; and the Rev. Dr. Clark, president of the United States Christian Endeavor society, who has just arrived here from Turkey.

The banquet was preceded by a reception at the Kaiserhof, at which Mrs. Uhl presided.

The German-American society also gave a banquet in honor of Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Uhl made a capital speech on national issues and proposed cheers for the emperor, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley. Mr. Correll spoke to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate."

"OLD GLORY" IN ROME

Rome, Italy, Nov. 26.—The stars and stripes floated today over the United States embassy consulate, the American college and the residence of the American here. Religious services were celebrated in the National church by the Rev. Dr. Nevin, and were attended by nearly all the leaders of the American colony.

The United States ambassador, Mr. Wayne McVagh, was unable on account of ill health to be present.

OBSERVED IN PARIS

Paris, France, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving celebrations here were confined to a meeting of the University Dinner club at which United States Ambassador Francis presided. Professor Sloane of Princeton, M. Bartholme, the sculptor, Mr. Ernest Lavasse, the French academician, and others spoke.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON

How President and Cabinet and Their Families Spent the Day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland attended Thanksgiving services today at the First Presbyterian church. The day was bright and balmy and Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland drove in the barouche with open windows. Later the presidential family ate their Thanksgiving dinner at the White House. The day was spent quietly, in accordance with the views suggested in the president's proclamation.

The members of the families of the

AMERICANS ARROD OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY.

American society in London Numbers Among its Guests Many Prominent Britons, Who Join in Congratulations Upon the Chum-Like Relations of John and Jonathan, All Agreeing That Bayard is No End Good Fellow—Bayard's Feet Under the Queen's Table—The Day in Other Capitals.

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—The second Thanksgiving dinner of the American society took place this evening in the Grand Hall of the Hotel Cecil. Mr. J. Wellcome, chairman of the society, presided, in the absence of the United States ambassador, who, with Mrs. Bayard, was "commanded" to dine with the queen at Windsor castle.

The dinner was on a more elaborate scale than any of the previous gatherings of the society and about 300 ladies and gentlemen were present.

The hall was splendidly decorated. A special feature of the ornamentation, in addition to the stars and stripes, was the display of the portraits of John and Jonathan, and a large American eagle, and near the chairman, on a velvet pedestal, was an enormous pumpkin, sent as a gift to Mr. Bayard, whose absence was much regretted.

In the middle of the dinner there was a surprise for the guests, when each one received a leather-bound souvenir book, containing the portraits of John and Jonathan, and all the American presidents, including President-elect McKinley.

Mr. Bayard's letter of apology for not being able to attend and wishing "God speed to the turkey" was followed by a telegram from the United States ambassador, from Windsor castle, in which he said:

"Your charming souvenir of the day we celebrate has just been received, and the copy for Her Majesty will be presented before your dinner is over. All who love the United States and Great Britain will join in mutual congratulations over the peaceful relations of the English-speaking people of the world."

Mr. Bayard's sentiment was greeted with loud cheers, and Mr. Wellcome, the chairman of the society, in alluding to Mr. Bayard's recent visit to London, said that it was a good omen that the United States ambassador was the guest of the queen at a Thanksgiving dinner. The toast to the queen was honored with unusual enthusiasm, and the Rev. Dr. Sir Frank Lockwood, in proposing "The President of the United States," referred to his recent visit to the United States. He bore a message, he said, from Baron Russell of Kilgoburn, the lord ambassador, that he would fain be with them, but the death of a relative prevented him.

The toast to the president was drunk with enthusiasm, to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner."

All of the speakers of the evening evinced a keen interest in the United States and its people, and with great cordiality and respect.

Among those present were Lieutenant Commander W. S. Cowles, the United States naval attaché; Mr. Carter, Mr. Bayard's secretary; General G. C. Davis, United States consul general; Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Stanley, Sir Richard Webster, Sir Frank Lockwood, Mr. Francis W. Jacobs and Mr. Mountney Jephson.

Sir Henry Irving and Lord Rosebery were invited but sent regrets.

Lord Rosebery, writing from Dalmeny, said:

"I can truly say that it would have given me the greatest pleasure to be present and to show my deep respect for your country and its ambassador, but I am detained here by a public gathering over which I am to preside."

GRATITUDE IN BERLIN

Berlin, Nov. 26.—At the Thanksgiving banquet tonight of the American colony, Ambassador Uhl and William S. Correll, consul general, presided.

Dr. Dredsen, were the principal speakers. Four hundred people were present, including Charles B. Kay, the United States consul general here; George Keenan, consul general at Bremen; J. C. Monaghan, consul at Chemnitz; William J. Black, consul at Nuremberg; Thomas E. Moore, consul at Weimar; Frederick Okke, consul at Breslau; William C. Dreher, consul at Garmisch; Peter V. Deuster, consul at Crefeld; Julius Muth, consul at Magdeburg; the Rev. Dr. Dickle, pastor of the American church in this city; and the Rev. Dr. Clark, president of the United States Christian Endeavor society, who has just arrived here from Turkey.

The banquet was preceded by a reception at the Kaiserhof, at which Mrs. Uhl presided.

The German-American society also gave a banquet in honor of Thanksgiving day.

Mr. Uhl made a capital speech on national issues and proposed cheers for the emperor, President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley. Mr. Correll spoke to the toast, "The Day We Celebrate."

"OLD GLORY" IN ROME

Rome, Italy, Nov. 26.—The stars and stripes floated today over the United States embassy consulate, the American college and the residence of the American here. Religious services were celebrated in the National church by the Rev. Dr. Nevin, and were attended by nearly all the leaders of the American colony.

The United States ambassador, Mr. Wayne McVagh, was unable on account of ill health to be present.

OBSERVED IN PARIS

Paris, France, Nov. 26.—The Thanksgiving celebrations here were confined to a meeting of the University Dinner club at which United States Ambassador Francis presided. Professor Sloane of Princeton, M. Bartholme, the sculptor, Mr. Ernest Lavasse, the French academician, and others spoke.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON

How President and Cabinet and Their Families Spent the Day.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 26.—The president and Mrs. Cleveland attended Thanksgiving services today at the First Presbyterian church. The day was bright and balmy and Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland drove in the barouche with open windows. Later the presidential family ate their Thanksgiving dinner at the White House. The day was spent quietly, in accordance with the views suggested in the president's proclamation.

The members of the families of the

AMERICANS ARROD OBSERVE THANKSGIVING DAY.

American society in London Numbers Among its Guests Many Prominent Britons, Who Join in Congratulations Upon the Chum-Like Relations of John and Jonathan, All Agreeing That Bayard is No End Good Fellow—Bayard's Feet Under the Queen's Table—The Day in Other Capitals.

London, Eng., Nov. 26.—The second Thanksgiving dinner of the American society took place this evening in the Grand Hall of the Hotel Cecil. Mr. J. Wellcome, chairman of the society, presided, in the absence of the United States ambassador, who, with Mrs. Bayard, was "commanded" to dine with the queen at Windsor castle.

The dinner was on a more elaborate scale than any of the previous gatherings of the society and about 300 ladies and gentlemen were present.

<